

Kiểm tra lý thuyết

Exercise 1: Chọn những các đáp án đúng để hoàn thiện các câu sau

Chọn 4 đáp án đúng - Skimming sẽ giúp người đọc

- ☐ Trực tiếp tìm ra câu trả lời trong thời gian ngắn nhất.
- ☐ Ngay lập tức tìm ra câu trả lời và vùng thông tin cần tìm kiếm.
- ☐ Khoanh vùng thông tin cần tìm kiếm.
- ☐ Thu hẹp phạm vi tìm kiếm thông tin.
- ☐ Đọc chậm và đọc kỹ hơn toàn bài
- ☐ Tìm ý chính của đoạn văn

Chọn 3 đáp án đúng - Khi thực hiện skimming, chúng ta hướng sự chú ý tới

- ☐ Câu chủ đề
- ☐ Câu dài nhất
- ☐ Câu kết luận
- ☐ Động từ, danh từ và tính từ
- ☐ Từ nối

Exercise 2: Nối các từ nối với mục đích sử dụng của chúng

firstly, secondly,...	So sánh
similar to, just as,...	Nguyên nhân - kết quả
but, however, although,...	Tương phản
if - then, because, as,...	Ví dụ
like, such as, for example,...	Liệt kê

Exercise 3: Xác định đâu là câu chủ đề của mỗi đoạn văn sau

Lưu ý: Các chữ cái trong ngoặc tương ứng với câu liền kề trước nó

The main reasons why electric cars are not more popular at present are their price and their relatively small range (A). Existing battery systems only allow electric cars to travel a distance of between 100 and 160 km (B). However, this distance may not be a problem for urban drivers (C). A recent Sydney study reported that 70 percent of journeys were 30km or less, and recent data from the US suggests that 77 percent of trips taken there are 48 km or less (D).

- ☐ A. Sentence A
- ☐ B. Sentence B
- ☐ C. Sentence C

At first glance, honey badgers look like the common European badger (A). They are usually between 75cm and 1 metre long, although males are about twice the size of females (B). They are instantly recognisable by grey and white stripes that extend from the top of the head to the tail (C). Closer inspection, which is probably not a wise thing to do, reveals pointed teeth, and sharp front claws which can be four centimetres in length (D).

- ☐ A. Sentence A
- ☐ B. Sentence B
- ☐ C. Sentence C
- ☐ D. Sentence D

What is a bad habit (A)? The most common definition is that it is something that we do regularly, almost without thinking about it, and which has some sort of negative consequence (B). This consequence could affect those around us, or it could affect us personally (C). Those who deny having bad habits are probably lying. Bad habits are part of what makes us human (D).

- ☐ A. Sentence A
- ☐ B. Sentence B
- ☐ C. Sentence C
- ☐ D. Sentence D

PREP.VN

Some people are concerned, however, that altering the weather can have negative consequences (A). Leonard Barrie, director of the research department at the World Meteorological Organization in Geneva, explains why (B). "All areas of weather modification are still very controversial. Some people think that diverting water for irrigation benefits some people, but is a disadvantage to others (C). Someone in one area will get more water, but as a result, someone somewhere else could get less (D).

- ☐ A. Sentence A
- ☐ B. Sentence B
- ☐ C. Sentence C
- ☐ D. Sentence D

Farmers often sell direct to the consumer, without all the packaging, shipping and advertising that increases cost in shops and supermarkets. (A) For that reason, the food in the countryside is at its cheapest and freshest in markets. (B) You can often find unusual products and those that are not mass-produced with amazing bargains. (C)

- ☐ A. Sentence A
- ☐ B. Sentence B
- ☐ C. Sentence C

There are many disadvantages to shopping online. (A) Sometimes you have to wait for delivery for several days and sometimes the goods are not what you want. Supermarkets, too, have their drawbacks. (B) The goods are all the same everywhere. For example, if you buy a coat from a supermarket, you will probably meet other people with the exact same one. We cannot deny the fact that either shopping online or offline, inconvenience still exists. (C)

- ☐ A. Sentence A
- ☐ B. Sentence B
- ☐ C. Sentence C

Exercise 4: Xác định nội dung chính của mỗi đoạn văn sau dựa vào câu chủ đề

The main reasons why electric cars are not more popular at present are their price and their relatively small range. Existing battery systems only allow electric cars to travel a distance of between 100 and 160 km. However, this distance may not be a problem for urban drivers. A recent Sydney study reported that 70 percent of journeys were 30km or less, and recent data from the US suggests that 77 percent of trips taken there are 48 km or less.

- ☐ A. Comparing prices of electric cars in the past to that now.
- ☐ B. Reasons for the unpopularity of electric cars currently.
- ☐ C. How electric cars change from the past till now.

At first glance, honey badgers look like the common European badger. They are usually between 75cm and 1 metre long, although males are about twice the size of females. They are instantly recognisable by grey and white stripes that extend from the top of the head to the tail. Closer inspection, which is probably not a wise thing to do, reveals pointed teeth, and sharp front claws which can be four centimetres in length.

- ☐ A. The appearance of honey badgers.
- ☐ B. Comparing honey badgers with European badgers.
- ☐ C. Comparing the shape of males and females.

What is a bad habit? The most common definition is that it is something that we do regularly, almost without thinking about it, and which has some sort of negative consequence. This consequence could affect those around us, or it could affect us personally. Those who deny having bad habits are probably lying. Bad habits are part of what makes us human.

- ☐ A. What makes a bad habit
- ☐ B. Why people have bad habits
- ☐ C. The definition of bad habits

Some people are concerned, however, that altering the weather can have negative consequences. Leonard Barrie, director of the research department at the World Meteorological Organization in Geneva, explains why. "All areas of weather modification are still very controversial. Some people think that diverting water for irrigation benefits some people, but is a disadvantage to others. Someone in one area will get more water, but as a result, someone somewhere else could get less. "His fears may be justified. Recently, the town of Zhoukou in China's Henan province accused neighbouring town Pingdingshang of "stealing" rain from clouds that were due to pass over its own farms, prompting what may be the world's very first documented incident of "rain rage".

- ☐ A. Potential negative influences of changing the weather
- ☐ B. Some heated argument about changing the weather
- ☐ C. Local people don't like the idea of transporting rain from one place to another.

PREP.VN